MframE Open, the Open Source Solution from MphasiS

Open Source is becoming mainstream, accelerated by the economic environment. However, many enterprises associate Open Source with a set of challenges including lack of support, unclear TCO, low product maturity, lack of integrated architecture, and too many product choices amongst other challenges.

MframE Open is MphasiS' solution offering to help firms build well-integrated, feature-rich, cost-effective web portal solutions. It is a pre-architected and pre-integrated solution that can be customized to provide a robust, scalable platform for industry specific web portal implementations. It leverages a decade of web/portal application development experience in building mission-critical web portal with popular commercial as well as Open Source products.

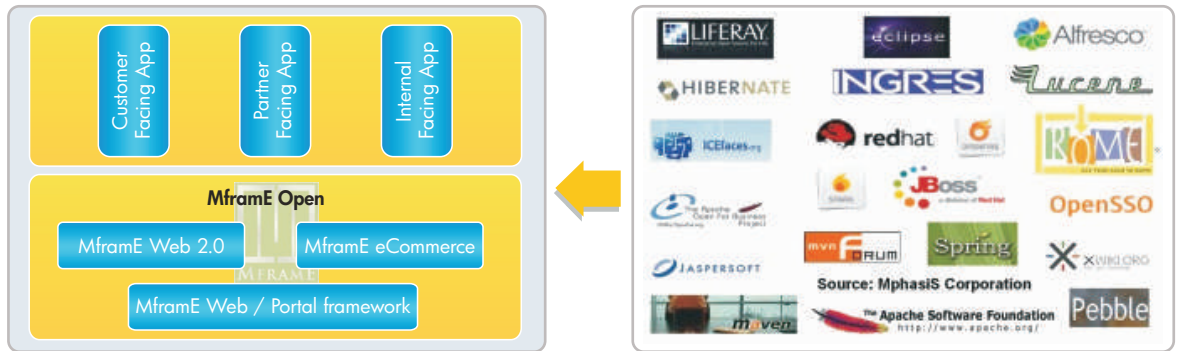

MframE Open provides a reusable framework to build variety of web solutions - Web, Portal, Web 2.0, and eCommerce framework using popular Open Source technologies. It is built on best-in-class Open Source products such as LifeRay, Alfresco, Lucene, Struts/Spring, Hibernate, JBOSS, amongst others.

MframE Open

MframE Open comprises three major frameworks which can be used independently or in combination:

1. MframE Web / Portal
 - Comprises Portal, Content Management, Search, AJAX, JSF, Security, etc.
 - Offers basic utilities such as Logging, Caching, Exception Handling, etc.
2. MframE Web 2.0
 - Includes Web 2.0 capabilities such as Blogs, Wikis, RSS, AJAX, Social Networking, Folksonomy, etc.
3. MframE eCommerce
 - Provides eCommerce capability such as cataloging, inventory, shopping card, etc.

MframE Open Framework

Drawing on several years of applications expertise in Open Source platforms, MphasiS provides services that deliver unprecedented cost savings, speed, security and control.
