

Endpoint and Mobile Security and DLP for a Leading Global Life Sciences Company

The Client

The client is a leading life sciences company with a large IT estate that spans over 180,000 endpoints.

Business Objective

With a large infrastructure and numerous devices, that access the client's network and portal, protecting the organization's IP became top priority. Ensuring that the infrastructure is safe from threats also meant there was a continuous need for IT support, which the client was unable to handle in-house.

How Mphasis Helped

Mphasis deployed and managed a 24x7 solution for endpoint security, data loss prevention and mobile security. Through the service, Mphasis manages 180,000 endpoints across the globe for the client.

The result is a safe and active IT environment that experiences 98% endpoint compliance, which exceeds the industry standards in endpoint compliance.
