

Making Future Ready Network for a Telecom Provider and Saving $1 Million

The Client

The client is one of the biggest telecommunication providers of the world and has over 200 datacenters globally.

Business Objective

The client's large network infrastructure relied on outdated equipment and was unable to leverage on capabilities provided by new technologies.

How Mphasis Helped

Mphasis setup a state-of-the-art network datacenter and migrated more than 10,000 devices from their legacy systems. We achieved 100% migration success without any disruption to everyday business operations.

Mphasis reduced the migration timeline from 2 months to a record time of 3 weeks through automation. Through the engagement, Mphasis saved approximately $1 million on bandwidth and equipment costs.
