IT services and solutions provider Discoverture Solutions has partnered with Mphasis to jointly provide property & casualty (P&C) implementation services to customers in North America and worldwide.

Headquartered in Scottsdale, Arizona, Discoverture Solutions provides implementation services for core processing systems, including policy administration, claims, billing and management reporting.

Besides providing XactConnect solution for the insurance industry, the company also delivers system integration, enterprise wide quality assurance, and business analysis services for P&C insurance companies.

Discoverture Solutions president Steve Addair said Mphasis' broad skill capabilities across various technology platforms will enable the company to provide broader service to its customers and enter more markets compared to what it could have accomplished separately.

Mphasis Insurance Consulting and Strategic Alliances vice president Billy McCarter said, "We anticipate interest from across both companies' client portfolio as carriers are challenged to deploy and manage effective solutions that provide flexible and modern technological infrastructure that help them support key business initiatives."

A unit of HP Company, Mphasis offers an array of insurance solutions across the spectrum of Application Development and Maintenance, Business Process Outsourcing and Infrastructure Services.
