Bengaluru/ New York, June 14, 2016

Mphasis, a leading IT services and solutions provider, today announced it has been selected by IDG's Computerworld as one of 2016 Best Places to Work in IT. Mphasis features amongst the top 21 midsized businesses and one of 100 top organizations that challenge their IT staffs while providing great benefits and compensation. Organizations will be included in coverage in Computerworld along with results from the 23rd annual Best Places to Work in IT survey.

The Best Places to Work in IT list is an annual ranking of the top 100 work environments for technology professionals by IDG's Computerworld. The list is compiled based on a comprehensive questionnaire regarding company offerings in categories such as benefits, career development, training and retention. In addition, Computerworld conducts extensive surveys of IT workers, and their responses factor heavily in determining the rankings.

"We are excited and honored for us to have made it to the 2016 Best Places to Work in IT from Computerworld. We get our biggest returns from Mphasians who go out there and delight our customers everyday, each one of them motivates us to not only continue the culture of empowerment and experimentation but to go for even more. Frankly, is there another way of being successful in this Digital Era?," said Ganesh Ayyar, Chief Executive Officer and Executive Director, Mphasis.

"The organizations on this year's Best Places to Work in IT list excel at creating a dynamic and satisfying IT work environment," says Scot Finnie, editor in chief of Computerworld. "In a competitive market for tech talent, these outstanding employers are able to attract highly skilled IT pros by offering great benefits, new learning opportunities, access to cutting-edge technologies and challenging, business-critical projects."
