The American Business Awards are the U.S.A.’s premier business awards program. All organizations operating in the U.S.A. are eligible to submit nominations – public and private, for-profit and non-profit, large and small.

Nicknamed the Stevies for the Greek word meaning “crowned,” the awards were presented to winners at a recently held ceremony at the Marriott Marquis Hotel in New York on Monday.

More than 3,700 nominations from organizations of all sizes and in virtually every industry were submitted this year for consideration in a wide range of categories, including Startup of the Year, Executive of the Year, Best New Product or Service of the Year, Marketing Campaign of the Year, Thought Leader of the Year, and App of the Year, among others. Mphasis won a Gold Stevie in the Covid-19 response category for Most Exemplary Employer.

“We are honored to have received the Gold Stevie® Award for being the ‘Most Exemplary Employer’. The recognition gives us the confidence to continue to stay focused on our ‘Employee first’ philosophy. Our work culture and employee-focused initiatives have only enabled our employees to choose their preferred environment where they can thrive while being a valuable contributor to our client’s business,” said Nitin Rakesh, Chief Executive Officer and Managing Director, Mphasis.

The Stevie Award judges complimented Mphasis’s response stating “This is an exceptional response to guide an enterprise through the pandemic using a people-first ideology. The extent of the care provided to employees and their families is commendable. A real wholesome package in addressing the pandemic!”

More than 230 professionals worldwide participated in the judging process to select this year’s Stevie Award winners.

“We are so pleased that we will be able to stage our first ABA awards banquet since 2019 and to celebrate, in person, the achievements of such a diverse group of organizations and individuals,” said Maggie Miller, president of the Stevie Awards.

“Having so many deserving nominees for The 2022 American Business Awards® was extraordinary.
