

HP ArcSight Deployment for a Large North American Financial Institution

The Client

The client is a North America based financial institution with presence over 25 countries. The client's e-banking division is large and caters to global customers.

Business Objective

The client's e-banking division faces 11 million security events per day with a significant amount of false positives. Ensuring that all security events are investigated is critical. However, the number of false positives increased cost, time and resources needed to ensure all potential risks are avoided.

How Mphasis Helped

After a detailed analysis, Mphasis deployed ArcSight into the client's IT environment and enabled the client to manage 600 events per second.

At the other end of the solution, Mphasis also correlated security information from various systems within the environment and enabled automation in providing key risk indicators.

Post implementation, the client reduced false positives by 25% and improved vulnerability detection by adding more than 100 test cases.
